FOGGY BOTTOM PICNIC AT PALISADES RECREATION CENTER A SUCCESS

Foggy Bottomites by the dozen gathered for a picnic at Palisades Recreation Center on August 25th. In spite of minor catastrophes, our first attempt at a community dinner was a success.

Approximately 60 picnickers enjoyed each other's salads and casseroles, cooked hot dogs, roasted corn, and filled the remaining empty spaces with ice cream and watermelon.

Early arrivals at the picnic discovered the Recreation Center's locked kitchen had been ransacked the night before by some young thieves. Almost a dozen and a half hot dogs and buns were stolen, as well as paper plates, mustard, and ketchup.

The bold thieves were -- evidently -- still hungry at the time of the picnic. A huge bowl of potato salad, prepared by a guest of Velma Ryan, was stolen with amazing skillfulness. Fortunately, the bowl itself reappeared at the end of the picnic.

Much credit for the success of the Foggy Bottom Picnic was due to the patience and good temper of Velma Ryan.

Like the area party earlier this year, the picnic provided a good chance for Bottomites to become better acquainted with their older neighbors and to meet for the first time some of the newer ones in the neighborhood.

Hard-working Bill and Joyce Everett -- a husband and wife team on the Program Committee -- are to be thanked and congratulated on the successful organization, planning, and follow-through of the picnic. They were instrumental in all phases of the event, including cleaning up afterward. They did have help from others, but the majority of credit goes to the Everetts. Thank you, Bill and Joyce, for a job well done.

Rufus Lisle, Chairman

During this past summer we have received a surprising number of new memberships in the Foggy Bottom Association. Now it is time to renew (if you have been a member) or to join initially. All residents of the area are welcome and needed for the Association to be most effective!

Please use the membership blank on the back page of this issue -- or, if you are keeping your copies of the NEWS -- just send the information requested on a plain sheet of paper along with your dues of either $3.00 (renters) or $5.00 (owners).

The Association opposed vigorously, through Bill Simon, Alling Brown, Betty Winspear and others, the allowance of a variance for a parking lot at 914 24th Street. The decision has been deferred.

In response to the Association's request for the repaving of streets, the Highway Department has made a survey and issued a generally favorable report calling for the repaving of several of the areas we requested. Other matters are making progress and will be reported at a later date.

 * PROGRAM COMMITTEE REPORT *

Bernice Teuteberg, Chairman

The Program Committee is making plans for the coming year and we think that there are a number of interesting, provocative, and entertaining meetings in the offing.

This month, as indicated on the front page of this issue of the NEWS, we once again have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Betty Bradford Bloom. Fall gardening will be her topic this time and we are sure that she will have many worthwhile suggestions for our gardens, flower boxes, etc.

For October we have scheduled an interior decorator to give us ideas and suggestions that will be of particular interest to the apartment dwellers in the area as well as to residents of small houses.

Problems that are common to our several associations will be discussed at our November meeting by representatives of the Georgetown Citizens Association and the Adams-Morgan Citizens Association. An open discussion will be held following their presentations.

 * PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE REPORT *
 *****

J. C. (Pat) Patterson, Chairman

The primary function of the Public Relations Committee is the publication and distribution of THE FOGGY BOTTOM NEWS.

We anticipate presenting to you, each month, the events -- past, present and future -- of the Foggy Bottom area as well as other material which is of particular interest to the residents of the Bottom. We will endeavor to find answers to any questions you may send us and hope to solidify our approach to all matters by informing all residents of these matters and enlisting your active support.

The NEWS will be published and distributed every month, one week before the Association meeting. The paper is completely underwritten by advertising and this Committee wishes to thank all of our regular advertisers and recommend that residents patronize them. We welcome any of the reputable commercial establishments in the area to participate in this community project. We also welcome and solicit any Foggy Bottom resident to serve on the Public Relations Committee. Please contact the Chairman if you are willing to help.

WILLIAM L. SIMON
PRESIDENT

William L. Simon claims a kinship with this neighborhood that goes back a long way: he was born at Columbia Hospital, just to the north of Foggy Bottom.

After attending the public schools in Washington, he went to Cornell University. On graduating from Cornell, Bill spent two years cruising from the Caribbean to the Persian Gulf as a Lieutenant (jg) aboard a Navy destroyer.

Since release from the Navy, he has been a freelance film writer. He does scripts for documentaries, public information, sales promotion, and teaching films for studios and companies throughout the country.

Bill has lived in Foggy Bottom since 1960. As his leisure time activities, he lists tennis, flying, ice skating, sailing -- and, of course, movie-going.

WALTER S. BOARDMAN
VICE PRESIDENT

Walter S. Boardman was born in Western New York State. He lived at Oceanside, on Long Island for 33 years.

Walter holds the degree of Doctor of Education from New York University. He served as school principal and for 19 years as the Superintendent of Schools at Oceanside -- a community of over 30,000 population. During these years he served in many community organizations and in both state and national education associations. He retired in 1959 and came to Washington as Executive Director of The Nature Conservancy, a private, non-profit organization seeking to preserve natural areas for scientific and public benefit.

His wife, Betty, has been active in Girl Scout work for many years and is currently on the National Board of Directors of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

EVELYN H. LARSON
SECRETARY

Eve was born in Buffalo Springs, N. D. of Norwegian descent. She attended schools in almost every part of the U.S. before receiving her Degrees from Barnard and the Columbia University Law School.

A world traveler, both on her own and as a Coast Guard Lieutenant Commander, Eve has spent a lot of time in Japan and Europe, as well as the U. S. Prior to coming to the Bottom she was Executive Assistant to NATO Ambassador Finletter in Paris. She is now Executive Assistant to Ernest Schein, Chairman of the D. C. Bar Association Committee on International Law and President of the Washington Foreign Law Society.

Among her many interests are international cooking, traveling, languages, square dancing, sailing, dramatics, riding, and singing -- she's a member of the Luther Place Memorial Church Choir.

ELIZABETH WINSPEAR
TREASURER

Betty Winspear has made Washington her home since 1951 when she deserted the book publishing business in New York City to return to active duty in the Navy Office of Public Information. But, she wasn't a native of New York City, either. She grew up in Buffalo, and went to college (WCUNC) in North Carolina. Betty moved "across the Creek" from Georgetown two years ago.

A writer and editor by trade, she recently joined the staff of the American Psychiatric Association.

When not working, Betty may be found attending a Naval Reserve meeting in her WAVE Lieutenant Commander's uniform, reading, walking, snorkeling, beachcombing, swimming, sunbathing, prowling through deserted houses, and, just relaxing -- dreaming of retiring to the West Indies to engage in all the foregoing the year 'round.

HAMBURG

(From "Hamburg, The Colonial Town",
by Jessie Fant Davis)

When the independence of the English colonies was still but a dream of the liberty-loving Jacob Funk, a German emigrant, bought a tract of approximately 130 acres in that portion of Frederick County, Maryland, out of which Montgomery County was later carved. These holdings were within the limits of Washington. They comprised approximately the area in the northwest section bounded by H St. on the north, Upper Water and B Streets (at that time the bank of the Potomac) on the south, Twenty third Street on the west, and a line midway between Eighteenth Street and Nineteenth Street on the east.

In 1768 the tract was laid out by this colonist of vision into 287 building lots, and a town was incorporated which--probably after his native town in Germany--he called Hamburg. The nearest neighboring towns at this time were Georgetown, Carrollsborg, and Bladensburg, with the intervening country and woodland and pasture.

It is not generally known that Thomas Jefferson thought this section of the city (now "Foggy Bottom") the ideal one for the location of the Capitol itself, and in connection with his rough outline for the new Federal City wrote the following:

"The highest summit of land in the town heretofore called Hamburg within the territory, with a convenient extent of grounds circumjacent, shall be appropriated for a Capitol for the accommodation of Congress, and such other lands between Georgetown and the stream heretofore called the Tyber as should on due examination be found convenient and sufficient shall be appropriated for the accommodation of the President of the United States for the time being and for the public offices of the government of the United States."

The exact location which President Jefferson indicated as his choice for the Capitol building, according to the research of Miss Maude Burr Morris, of the Columbia Historical Society, was the site at the southwest corner of Nineteenth and G Streets.

With the growth of the Federal City, this area which had once been included in the town of Hamburg became an exclusive residential section of the Nation's Capitol. Probably in few cities in the world were so many families of similar culture and ideals congregated in happy homes as were to be found in this vicinity during the latter part of the last century.

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

William L. Simon

It's been very encouraging, recently, to find that we who live in Foggy Bottom aren't the only ones concerned with what is happening to our neighborhood.

For example, the National Capital Planning Commission is interested in preserving areas of "particularly desirable, uniform character" -- and that description, surely, fits Foggy Bottom.

We talked, the other day, with several members of the Commission staff, explaining our hopes for Foggy Bottom, and exploring ways they might help us. As a result, the FBRA plans, in the near future, to present the Commission with a formal request for their assistance. The object would be to make specific plans for Foggy Bottom's future and then get the D.C. Government to support the plans. The goal, of course, is to insure that the Foggy Bottom of tomorrow will be the kind of neighborhood all of us want it to be.

The Planning Commission is also interested in our desires for a playground, as mentioned elsewhere in this issue of the NEWS. It's likely that they will help us make this possible.

We've also talked recently to a representative of the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The Trust is an organization chartered by Congress "to safeguard America's heritage of historic sites and buildings". Again, it was pleasing to learn that as they interpret the phrase, it includes Foggy Bottom. We hope that the FBRA will soon associate with the Trust, and enlist their aid, too.

Neither of these organizations has done anything for Foggy Bottom in the past, because they have never been approached by us before. The initial contacts seem encouraging, and we feel they may both be of great help to the neighborhood.

The highways now pushing through on our west flank, and the two major developments soon a-building to the south, will inevitably affect Foggy Bottom. Only if we start planning and working now, can we hope that the changes will be desirable ones.

A NEW NAME FOR FBRA?NOTICE OF INTENT TO AMEND BY-LAWS

From time to time, discussions have been held at our meetings, on whether we should change the name of our Association. At a recent Executive Board meeting, it was decided to put the matter up to a vote of the members. This will be done at the September meeting.

Some of the suggestions made so far are:

Foggy Bottom Association
Foggy Bottom Citizens' Association
Foggy Bottom Community Association

Other suggestions may be made from the floor at the meeting.

It will not be practical to change the name of the Association while we continue to have legal action in progress before the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board and the Courts. Therefore, any change in name approved now will not become effective until after the litigation has been concluded.

A PLAYGROUND FOR FOGGY BOTTOM?

Your Association is currently looking into the need for a playground for the neighborhood. We think there are enough children now living here to justify it -- but we're not sure. To find out, we are taking a census of children. The headcounting is being done by Lila (Mrs. Martin) Braine. If there are any small heads in your family that haven't been counted yet, please call her at FE 8-9190, or stop by at 808 New Hampshire Avenue. And if you know of any children who live outside Foggy Bottom, but near enough to use a playground here, please let her know about them, too.

The Association will undertake a program to get a playground only if we find enough children and enough interest to warrant it. If you are interested, please help us get a complete, accurate census.

ART GALLERY IN FOGGY BOTTOM

Audrey Preissler, 915 - 26th Street, N. W., has opened the lower floor of her home as a private art gallery which will be open by appointment only. The gallery will handle, in addition to her own, the works of friends and other Washingtonians. At the present time watercolors are featured.

Audrey, who has done some sketches for previous editions of the NEWS, has a very liberal art background having exhibited her works at the Washington Art Gallery, the Smithsonian Institution, a one woman show in Milwaukee, among others.

The gallery will be open evenings and weekends by appointment (call 338-3957) and if you're interested in some excellently executed watercolors - mostly of Georgetown and the Washington area - you can probably find what you're looking for at reasonable prices since commissions are extremely small on any sales. Coffee is served.

THE FOGGY BOTTOM WATERGATE PROJECT

The following information, taken from a press release from Lavenson Bureau of Advertising, Inc. of Philadelphia for the Riverview Realty Corporation, is passed on to Bottomites for their information. Much of the information has been previously published and/or discussed at Association meetings since the announcement of the project.

The Watergate Project, known as the Garden City Within A City, is the first major design to be built in the United States by the internationally reputed architect, Luigi Moretti. He has, however, done similar complexes in Italy and other countries.

The $66 million Watergate complex will consist of three apartment buildings, a residential hotel, an office building, community shopping facilities, including restaurants and a limited number of villas situated throughout the landscaped area. The first apartment building is expected to be under construction this fall in the triangular 10-acre setting.

The residential hotel will be located at the center of the complex and connected in a rough V-form to an office building with 200,000 sq. ft. fronting on Virginia Avenue. There will be three levels of underground parking providing a 1,250 car capacity. The President of the Riverview Realty Corporation, recently appointed selling and leasing agent, reports that "several hundred individuals have expressed interest in apartments in Watergate".

The project is designed in a series of curves to provide maximum visibility of the river and landscaping for the residents of the more than 1,000 units. Moretti calls the design "a living shape"; a spokesman for the designer stated: "We may say that we have the pride of giving to Washington a residential complex worthy of standing among the most beautiful and refined in the U.S."

In one building the central, open Renaissance Palladian style colonnade is enriched by a series of fountains running from the outside to the inside. It also contains a monumental staircase leading to the inner, lower levels containing the commercial facilities. The 160-foot long open colonnade area and the two glassed-in lobbies facing it will contain antique and modern sculpture, giving it a gallery-like appearance. The roofs of the buildings will be completely landscaped and top floor residents will be able to enjoy individually designed terraces.

Some apartments will have wide terraces, again providing the project's typical "garden" continuity. The number of the apartments has been reduced in order to give more spaciousness and provide better service.

Associate Architects of the project are Corning, Moore, Elmore and Fischer, of Washington. The financing for Watergate has been arranged with the John Hancock Co. of Boston, through the Donald Richardson Co. of Washington.

Further information about the project is available by contacting Janet Yeager, Assistant Director of Public Relations, Lavenson Bureau of Advertising, Inc., 116 South Seventh Street, Philadelphia 6, Pa.
